FROM THE DESK OF DEACON JOE

My family has always enjoyed road trips. Years ago – before the APP Store, we would take time to prepare not only what we would need on the trip but also how we would get there. These days, when we leave on a trip we can skip the part about pouring over maps to direct us to our destination – we simply grab a navigational device and input the address of where we are headed. However too often we trust the device to get us where with are going without having to recalculate. Is this always wise?

Our readings this week show us that on our life's journey it is through Wisdom and the gift of the right preparation we can trust that we will find the way to reach our final destination.

In our first reading from Wisdom we understand that Wisdom will look after those who are conscious of her and intentionally watch for her. Much has been written on the book of Wisdom which is always portrayed in the feminine. We know that through the wisdom we have gained in our life it will become the treasure from which we can use to direct our path through life. Wisdom directs us to be prepared to bring extra oil for our lamps for our journey as described in our Gospel reading.

Our Gospel reading directs us towards the end of times as they always do this time of year as our liturgical year comes to an end. When we hear of the end of times it may cause us to reflect a bit on this past year and we may have found we have strayed from our original goal. Perhaps we hear the word in the back of our minds saying, "Recalculating."

This is a time for preparation which is the Wisdom shared with us today. We have the Wisdom gained from our past experiences to help guide our future but we can't be sure about the future because so many circumstances can affect the plans we have made. Jesus asks us to be vigilant, to be ready to adjust our plans and to remember the promises God has made to us – that one day we will see the bridegroom face to face.

May Wisdom enter your hearts and guide you on your journey to Eternity.

Blessings,

Deacon Joe
