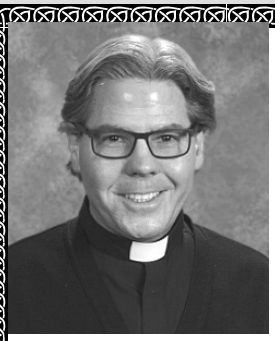
FROM THE DESK OF FATHER KALUZA



Touched by God

The readings this weekend remind us of our unworthiness and of God's goodness. Jesus touches the leper to offer both healing and salvation. He even told the leper that it was his will that he be made clean. Jesus makes those promises to us as well. He wants us to be clean and he wants to give the unmerited gift of salvation to us. All he asks is that we believe that he can do it.

That is the challenge for us to consider if we really believe. If we do really believe we will not only say that we are followers, but we will demonstrate our belief in good deeds and actions. It is a reminder of the old adage that actions speak louder than words. The actions of the leper were to go and announce to the world the wonders and powers of Jesus who can heal. Overcome with great joy and filled with gratitude, the leper proclaims the extraordinary mission of the savior! We can reflect on our own joy and gratitude and ponder how we might proclaim the powers of Jesus who meets us each day in many ways and remains with us in times of happiness and sorrow.

This weekend we also begin the 2018 Catholic Services Appeal. I am asking for your support of this very important foundation work as it funds many collective ministries in the Archdiocese. Your gift to the Catholic Services Appeal is restricted for the benefit of 18 collective ministries that cannot be funded on their own or by any one parish and need support from all of us. I wholeheartedly support this Appeal and I will be making my own personal pledge to it. I am calling on each family in our parish to also participate.

May we continue the good work of proclaiming that Christian joy and building the Kingdom of God! God bless you, Father Michael Kaluza

COMING SOON: LENT

What are realistic ways we can prepare for a successful Lent? This is a funny idea, "preparing for Lent" especially since Lent is literally our preparation for Easter! Honestly though, I think it's easier on everyone if we ease into "giving things up" for Lent and take the prep time to consider our options before Lent begins (this Wednesday if you weren't already aware). So what am I suggesting you do with these three days?

Step 1. Make an overall list of things you do in your day.
Step 2. Break up that list by things you have to do, things you should do and things you do in your down time.
Step 3. Review the list of all the things you do during your down time, from the moment you wake up, 'til the moment you fall asleep.

1. Pick one thing from you can GIVE UP from your down time (ie. Video games, tv shows or movies).
2. Pick one thing you can ADD to your down time (ie. Going to Adoration, praying for a full 5 mins, reading a book about saints, help your family cook dinner if you don't already do it)
3. Recognize one sin/habit that you've been trying to kick and KICK it. (Greed, envy, anger, lust, violence, lying, impurity etc.)
4. Every time you encounter temptation pray. Pick one: Hail Mary, Our Father or St Michael the Archangel prayer and pray it and find something else to do.
5. Any time you fall into sin (particularly that sin), go to Confession. Call & make an appointment with Fr. Kaluza or come to ANY Confession time.

Step 4. Bask in the awesomeness of Lent, realizing that you're being more successful at your HAVE TOs and SHOULD Dos.
Step 5. Don't forget to do the regular stuff: Go to Mass every Sunday & Holy Day, Go to Confession regularly, Don't commit Mortal sins and receive Communion before going to Confession first, Pray daily (even for just 5 minutes), Honor & respect your parents and people in authority.
